Public use version of Flexoline Index Data File

Flexoline Index Database, ca. 2000–ca. 2003
Records of the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (Record Group 566)
TR-0566-2020-0080

The Flexoline Index includes records of individuals with dates of birth less than 100 years old and so may contain information of potentially living individuals. This information is exempt from release under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)(b)(6), which pertains to personal privacy.

In 2024, NARA staff prepared an extract of the data file that only contains records of individuals NARA could determine were born 1923 or earlier. The file is in ASCII, with comma-delimited fields enclosed in double quotations (") and record-delimited records (CR/LF). The file includes a header row with the column names. This release comprises over 82% of the records initially transferred to NARA.

File Name	No. of Records	File Size (Bytes)
flexoline_2024.csv	8,253,861	1,315,783,748

Staff used the year of birth (dob_year) field to determine if a record for an A-Number can be released as of 2024. Records in the public use file include incomplete years such as 18xx, 190x, 191x, 1x0x, 1x1x, 1x20, 1x21, 1x22, and 1x23.

However, some A-Numbers are associated with more than one year of birth in the records. In cases where for a single A-Number there is record with a year of birth over 100 years ago and a year of birth less than 100 years ago, NARA went by the most recent birth date. Those records will be released in later public use extracts of the data file once the most recent birth date reaches over 100 years ago. In addition, NARA will not release records with completely blank birth years or incomplete birth years that don't fall into the patterns above until 2056, which is when the most recent birthdate in the Index data file will be over 100 years old.

The agency used asterisks (*) to indicate illegible or unknown characters when they originally created these records. NARA staff replaced the asterisks with underscores in the version of the records prepared for the 2024 release.

Also note, while the fields are enclosed, some fields contain backslashes (\). Unless accounted for, these characters may cause errors when importing the records into a database system or other software.

Records formats and blank fields

The Flexoline database contains records in three format types, which correspond to the three different formats of the original Flexoline microfiche/film strips. The agency designated these formats with the letters A, B, and C for the purpose of automation. During data entry, keyers noted the format of the record and included that information in the Flexoline database as part of the record.

Not all formats capture the same kind of information. Because of this, not all fields may be populated in all records. Fields may also be blank even though they may appear in the format type. It is also possible some records may include populated fields not designated by their format type. These values may be the result of dirty data or data entry errors. See the attached Appendix A for the list of fields present in the file and the formats that included those fields.

Errors, dirty data, and wildcard characters

These records may contain errors or dirty data due to how they were created. The Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) manually indexed the Alien Registration forms to create the original Flexoline strips in the 1940s and 1950s. In around 2000, INS later keyed (retyped) in the index to create the searchable electronic database. Either of these steps in the process could have introduced typos or incomplete information due to illegible forms or strips. In addition, individuals completed the AR-2 Forms to the best of their knowledge, but may have misremembered their birthdate, country of birth, or other names they had gone by.

A small number of fields contain backslashes (\), not all of which may be due to data entry errors. The backslash is often used as an escape character. Researchers may wish to remove or replace these characters prior to attempting to import these records into a database system or other software.

In the original records, INS used an asterisk (*) to indicate illegible or unknown characters within a word or the entire value in a field.

City, State, and County of Registration Codes (POECITYCODE, POESTATECODE, and POECOUNTYCODE fields)

These three code fields refer to the place of registration (may also be referred to as place of residence), not the port of entry. They contain the geographic location where a given alien registered under the Alien Registration Act of 1940.

The fields are found in Format A records only. It is possible these fields may be populated in Format B or C records however the values may be due to data entry errors.

The meanings for these codes are in the Place of Registration look-up table (Flex-POR.csv). This code list presents challenges in using it. The codes are interrelated such that interpreting the county codes depends on the state codes and interpreting the city codes depends on the state and county codes. Users may wish to separate out the three kinds of codes into their own lists.

Note: In the Flexoline Index data records, these fields are ordered city, state, then county. This is the order used in the examples below.

The table contains five fields: STATENAME, ST_CODE, DIVISION, CITYCODE, and COUNTYCODE. The STATENAME field contains the meaning for the state code (ST_CODE). The DIVISION field contains meanings for the city and county codes (CITYCODE and COUNTYCODE, respectively). If the city code is 00 (or 0), then the meaning in the DIVISION field refers to a county, otherwise the meaning refers to a city. For example:

STATENAME	ST_CODE	DIVISION	CITYCODE	COUNTYCODE
FLORIDA	09	DADE	00	17
FLORIDA	09	MIAMI	08	17
FLORIDA	09	MIAMI BEACH	09	17

In the above example, the county is Dade, in which the two cities, Miami and Miami Beach, reside.

For example, if you see a registration code of 080917, you would first look for 09 in ST_CODE to get the meaning “Florida” for the state. Then, within the records for state 09, find 17 in COUNTYCODE and look where the CITYCODE is 00 to get the meaning “Dade” for the county. Lastly, within the records for Dade County, Florida, look for 08 in CITYCODE to get the meaning “Miami” for the city. See Appendix B for another lookup example.

States may have more than one code associated with them (e.g. State codes 10 and 11 refer to Georgia).

It is possible for a county code to be undefined itself while the code is still useful to identify a city. For example, in registration code 603736, the county code 36 is undefined in the code list, however it can still be used to look up the city code 60, which is for “Kings Brooklyn Borough.”

Codes can appear more than once, with or without different meanings. For example:

- Hartford Town, Connecticut and Hartford City, Connecticut are both registration code 070602
- There are two records with the same registration codec for Atlanta, Georgia (121090)

Additionally, not all county meanings may refer to actual counties (e.g. Yellowstone Natl Park 1 or Norwich Town).

Port of Entry Code (POECODE field)

Port of Entry Code field is found in Format C records. It is possible this field may be populated in Format A or B records however these values may be due to data entry errors.

The Port of Entry Codes are the same used in the Pre-1956 FCO Code listing and may more accurately indicate where the A-File opened than the actual port of entry. See “Service Location Codes – Prior to April 1956” code list (RG Pre-56 Office Codes.pdf).

Fields containing “Unreadable” or “Unreadable Record”

These electronic records were created by staff contracted by the INS to manually key in data from the microfilmed Flexonline strips. During that process, in cases where the Flexoline strip was completely unreadable, the data was captured as “UNREADABLE” or “UNREADABLE RECORD” in the affected field(s). In cases where some of the characters could be deciphered, staff substituted an asterisk (*) in place of the illegible letter or number.

Note 1: This field is not identified in the agency layouts for the three record formats. In Format B records, a visa number can appear in the MISC field position in the original Flex strip. It is possible, for Formats A and C, visa numbers were added later on an ad-hoc basis.

Note 2: These fields were not part of the original Flexoline formats. The agency added this information later on an ad-hoc basis.

Appendix B: Using the Place of Registration look-up table

Note: This example walks through how to look up meanings for the registration codes. The code list has been opened in Microsoft Excel and uses filtering for demonstration purposes.

Registration code to translate (state, city, county): 400430

First look up 04 (State) for the meaning of California.

STATENAME	ST_CODE	DIVISION	CITYCODE	COUNTYCODE
CALIFORNIA	04	SANTA MONICA	93	30
CALIFORNIA	04	SOUTH GATE	95	30
CALIFORNIA	04	SOUTH PASADENA	96	30

Then look up 30 (County), where the CITYCODE is 00, for Los Angeles County.

	STATENAME	ST_CODE	DIVISION	CITYCODE	COUNTYCODE
	CALIFORNIA	04	LOS ANGELES	00	30
3

Then look up 40 (City), with the state (04) and county (30) codes, for Los Angeles.

	STATENAME	ST_CODE	DIVISION	CITYCODE	COUNTYCODE
4	CALIFORNIA	04	LOS ANGELES	40	30

SERVICE LOCATION CODES - PRIOR TO APRIL 1956

1. Purpose: The purpose of this instruction is to provide a ready reference to determine ports of entry and file locations when index cards or documents show the old numerical symbols used in the assignment of file prefix numbers.

2. General. Formerly a four digit number was used to reflect the Service location instead of the alphabetical symbol now used. The first two digits reflect the district number, the last two digits, the office or port. This system began July 1, 1944. File numbers with the four digit prefix were assigned to immigration cases. Such files originated in district offices, suboffices, stations, border patrol sector headquarters, and other Service locations. The four digit prefix number reflected the Service location where the file originated. A series of files were opened with consecutive subnumbers which began with number 1, for each Service location. The identifying subnumber was separated from the prefix by a dash, eg. 0200 15032. The list below shows the Service office, or port to which the prefix was assigned. The list is arranged numerically.

THE SOUNDEX METHOD OF INDEXING AND FILING

Soundex filing is a method of indexing and filing by code to give a number to each surname or organization name which groups similar names regardless of spelling. The first letter of a name is never coded. It is always followed by three digits which are determined by applying the Soundex Code.

In the Soundex Code, there are six groups of consonant letters, in each of which every letter has a number equivalent. Following is a table showing the Soundex Code:

Letters	Number Equivalents
b, f, p, v	1
c, g, j, k, q, s, x, z	2
d, t	3
l	4
m, n	5
r	6
Not coded or no consonants	0 (zero)
Insufficient consonants	0 (zero)

It is easy to remember that all consonants are coded with the exception of the letters w, h, y and that all vowels a, e, i, o,u are not coded. The 3 consonants and vowels have no number equivalents.

CODING RULE

1. a. The first letter of the surname is the "Initial" letter, and it is not coded. It indicates the section of the file to which it belongs. (The surname ADAMS is filed in the "A" section and BROWN is filed in the "B" section.) The remainder of the name is then coded to three digits in sequence as the coded consonants occur in the name.

A n d e r s o n is coded A-536

The first letter of this name is A and, as it is the "Initial" letter, it is not coded, but is designated "A", just as it is. The next letter is "n" and in the table it has a numerical equivalent of 5. The next letter is "d" and it has an equivalent of 3. The next letter is "e" which is a vowel and is not coded. The next letter is "r" and the equivalent for that is 6. Three digits (536) is as far as the name is coded. No code contains more than three digits.

A n d e r s o n	A-536
C o n d o r	C-536
S e n a t o r	S-536
W a n d e r	W-536

This illustrates that the code 536 may be used in the 26 alphabetic sections of the file.

b. When no consonants or insufficient code consonants in the surname to give a three digit code, add one zero, two zeros or three zeros to complete the code.

EXAMPLES:

D a r l i n g t o n	is coded D-645 (3 consonants only)
G o o d y e a r	is coded G-360 (2 consonants add 1 zero)
L e v y	is coded L-100 (1 consonant add 2 zeros)
S h a w	is coded S-000 (consonants h and w not coded add 3 zeros)
T o u h e y	is coded T-000 (consonants h, y not coded add 3 zeros)

2. a. When a surname has double letters, consider them as though they were a single letter for coding purposes.

EXAMPLE:

A bb o tt	is coded A-130
F a rr e ll	is coded F-640
M a nn	is coded M-500

b. When the name has any combination of two or more letters together with the same numerical equivalent, code as a single letter.

EXAMPLES:

J a cks o n	is coded J-250
B i ggs	is coded B-200

H e r sc h e l is coded H-624

Mc C a r t h y is coded M-263

O pff e r is coded O-160

T o dt is coded T-300

3. a. When one or more letters immediately following the "Initial" letter are its numerical equivalent, do not code them but continue through the name to the first consonant that has a code number. This rule applies to any letter that immediately follows the "Initial" letter and is its equivalent with no separators. Examples are often found in names beginning with the letter C, G, L and P, but most often in names beginning with the letter S. Note in the examples the letters grouped with the first or "Initial" letter are the same or have the same number equivalent as that letter and there are no separators; therefore they are not coded.

EXAMPLES:

Cz e r n y is coded C-650

Cz a jk o w sk i is coded C-220

Gj e l h a u g is coded G-420

Gsc h w e n dt n e r is coded G-535

Ll o y d is coded L-300

Pf e ff e r is coded P-160

Py i n t z is coded P-532

Schk o l n i ck is coded S-452

Sc o tt is coded S-300

Sk o w is coded S-000

Sc h m i dt is coded S-530

Sck l a r e n is coded S-465

Sczs o t k a l is coded S-324

Sq u i r e s is coded S-620

b. The vowels a, e, i, o, u and the consonant y are used as separators. Consonants having a code number when separated by these vowels and y are coded individually.

EXAMPLES:

B i g o s	is coded B-220
F e rr a r a	is coded F-660
H e nm a n	is coded H-550
K o zs a s i ck	is coded K-222
L y l e s	is coded L-420
M cC l e ll a n d	is coded M-244
S t a t e n	is coded S-335
V a n S i ck l e	is coded V-522

c. The letters h and w, when either or both appear within the name are to be considered as having no bearing whatsoever on the coding. They should be thought of as non-existent. The letters h and w are not separators and should be considered as excess or not appearing in a name.

EXAMPLES:

A sch r o f t	is coded A-261
B a schk o ff	is coded B-210
B h a ll	is coded B-400
C h u r c h i ll	is coded C-624
D r e sch l e r	is coded D-624
G r e e n w o o d	is coded G-653
L i v e rwr i g h t	is coded L-162
P a schk a	is coded P-200
R a w ll	is coded R-400
S a chs	is coded S-200
S m i thd e a l	is coded S-534

A Few Indexing Rules for Surnames and for Soundex Coding

1. Foreign and other prefixes such as bon, d', da, de del, di, do, el, la, las, le, li, lo, los, M', Mac, Mc, O', van, vander, von, vonder, etc., are actually a part of the surname even if spaced separately or written with capital letters. For coding purposes, consider the different parts of the name as though all in one. (This does not apply to Spanish-language names. See paragraph 2 below.)

EXAMPLES:

Bon Durant	as though B o n d u r a n t	B-536
Di Bello	as though D i b e ll o	D-140
De Los Santos	as though D e l o ss a n t o s	D-425
Dela Cruz	as though D e l a c r u z	D-426
D'Aubigny	as though D a u b i g n y	D-125
Le Droit	as though L e d r o i t	L-363
L'Oise	as though L o i s e	L-200
Mac Murray	as though M a c m u rr a y	M-256
McDonald	as though M c d o n a l d	M-235
O'Farrel	as though O f a rr e ll	O-164
Van Den Berg	as though V a n d e n b e r g	V-535
Vander Meer	as though V a n d e r m e e r	V-536
Von Suppe	as though V o n s u pp e	V-521

2. Spanish-language names. The following procedure shall be followed in coding Spanish-language names:

(1) Only the first surname shall be coded.

EXAMPLES: (Underlining indicates name to be coded)

Juan Gomez y Conde

Juan Gomez Conde

Juan Gomez-Conde

Ana Conde de Gomez

Ana Conde vda. de Gomez

(2) Do not code the following:

de

de los del

EXAMPLES:

Jose de la Torres-Munoz

Enrique De Alba-Garcia

3. Compound two part names are considered as though one entire name. If there is a hyphen between two names, consider it as all one name for coding purposes. (This does not apply to Spanish-language names. See paragraph 2 above)

EXAMPLE:

J. A. Bulwer-Lytton is coded B u l w e r l y t t o n B-464

4. Abbreviations of Saint (St.) are coded as though spelled out. Occasionally the French or Spanish abbreviation of Sainte (Ste.) or Santa (Sta.) is used. Always be sure that this is coded together with the part of the surname that follows it.

EXAMPLES:

St. John	is coded as S a i n t j o h n	S-532
Sta. Lucia	is coded as S a n t a l u c i a	S-534
Ste. Marie	is coded as S a i n t e m a r i e	S-535

All abbreviations are spelled out before coding or filing.

5. American Indian names are treated thus:

If the name includes a given name and a tribal name, code the full tribal name as though it were a compound name.

EXAMPLES:

Mary Big White Eagle	is coded as B i g w h i t e a g l e	B-232
Jim Running Deer	is coded as R u nn i n g d e e r	R-552

If no recognizable given name appears with the tribal name, consider the tribal name as the only name and code it as a whole.

EXAMPLES:

Red Stone Face	is coded as R e d s t o n e f a c e	R-323
(Chief) Black Rain Cloud	is coded as B l a ck r a i n c l o u d	B-426

6. Disregard all titles appearing before or after the surname.

EXAMPLES:

(Miss) B r o w n, Mary Jane	is coded B-650	filed Mary Jane
(Col.) Paul J o h n s o n	is coded J-525	filed Paul
(Mr.) S m i t h, John H.	is coded S-530	filed John H.
M u r p h y, Charles A. (Jr.)	is coded M-610	filed Charles A.
(Senator) Charles W a l d r o n	is coded W-436	filed Charles
W i ll i a m s, (Rev.) James Edward	is coded W-452	filed James Edward

7. Chinese names are coded thus:

When a sequence of two, three or four names appear, no part of which can be recognized as the first name, middle name or surname, the first part only is coded as the surname and the next parts used as the first name and middle name.

EXAMPLES:

Low Tai Yat	code only	Low L-000	file first name Tai middle name Yat
Harry Yat Bun Sing	code only	Yat Y-300	file first name Harry middle name Bun Sing

When one or more names follows the surname take care to code only the surname (see examples above). Sometimes the surname will be in capital letters and the other names will be in lower case letters. Sometimes the other names will be connected by a hyphen, in such cases you may find the surname written either before or after the other names. Regardless of the foregoing, if an individual customarily uses one or another of his names as his surname, then you should accept that name as his surname.

EXAMPLES:

Wu Kung Lee	coded only Wu	W-000	filed Kung Lee
SOONG Mei Ling	coded only Soo n g	S-520	filed Mei Ling
Chiang Kai-Shek	coded only Chia n g	C-520	filed Kai-Shek

GENERAL RULES

1. The surname only is coded unless an individual has only a single name, in which case the single name is considered the surname for coding purposes.

2. The complete surname only is always underlined as coded. The first name is NOT underlined.

3. If a typewritten name appears faint or blurred, it is corrected on a separate line and not directly on top of the typed name.

4. In writing codes, block letters and numbers only are used.

5. A dash is always placed between the "Initial" letter of the surname and the first digit of the numeric code.

6. Free space above the name is used for writing the code. Numbers and letters are written about one-half inch high. Care is taken that the code is not run into printed matter.

7. If an error is made, a line is drawn through it and a complete new code is written.

8. If a name is illegible, the record or paper is returned to the supervisor for proper disposition or interpretation.

HOW THE SOUNDEX CODE IS APPLIED TO FILING

As stated previously, the first letter of the surname is the "Initial" letter and consequently all material is sorted first by that letter (26 letters of the alphabet). The material is then coded, each letter separately, the resulting codes are sorted into a numerical sequence. Since the lowest combination of numbers is 000 and the highest is 666, each separate letter is subdivided into this numerical sequence, beginning with A-000 and proceeding to A-666, the B-000 through B-666, C-000 through C-666 and so on to the last letter, Z-000 through Z-666. See attached complete numeric code chart.

Once the surname is coded, it will then fall into a definite numerical category. Every surname having the same "Initial" letter and the identical combination of code numbers, regardless of the differences in the spelling of a name, will be found in that particular section of the file. Within each numerical group the material is filed in a strict alphabetical order by first name or first name initial and middle name or initial. A small cross section of the file is illustrated. The letter used is H and the sequence shown is at the very beginning. The same sequence is used for every other letter from A to Z. Note how each number is kept separate. Note also that many of the surnames within each numerical group are of different spellings, yet all have the same code numbers. The first names and middle names are arranged alphabetical according to standard practice. When the exact first name and middle initial fall together with a different spelling of the surname, the verification of duplication must be made.

SOUNDEX CODE

The first letter of the surname determines the main alphabetic index in which the name belongs and is never coded. The vowels, A E I O U Y (consider Y as a vowel), and the consonants, W and H have no numeric value in the code.

The consonants are translated to their respective numeric value, and the numbers are entered in the order in which the consonants appear in the name, as illustrated by the following:

STEPHENS	315
SNYDER	536

The lines drawn through letters having no numeric values are to aid you to visualize the consonants and such lines should never be made on the document being coded.

The codes for names which do not contain three key letters or equivalents are completed by adding ciphers as illustrated by the following:

SIEGEL	240
SWEET	300

Note that in the code, ciphers follow but never precede the numeric code figures. Two or more of the same key letters, or their equivalents, coming together are treated as one key letter and are converted to one number, as illustrated by the following:

SHEPPARD	163
SACKS	200
SHERRILL	640

A key letter or its equivalent immediately following an initial letter of the same group or value is disregarded in coding, as illustrated by the following:

SKIGEN	250
SCZURMAN	655

The above is the most frequent source of errors and should be carefully studied.

Key letters, or their equivalents, separated by A E I O U or Y are coded separately, as illustrated by the following:

STATEN	335
SIMONATE	553

Key letters, or their equivalents, separated by H or W are coded as one key letter, as illustrated by the following:

SØKWZX	200
SCHKOLNIK	452

Note particularly the name just above where C is not coded because it is in the same sound group as S, and K is not coded because it is in the same sound group as C from which it is separated by H rather than by one of the vowels. Another way of stating this rule is to consider H or W as not being there at all.

All names can be coded; therefore, names which do not contain any of the six key letters, or their equivalents, are coded "000", as illustrated by the following:

SHEA	000
SHAW	000
NEWHAW	000
